Up to Date Product Data

Manufacturers/distributors submit Structured Product Labeling (SPL) files with up to date product data to FDA to post on the DailyMed and Labels.fda.gov websites. Patients/consumers may use these websites to view medication guides, patient package inserts and drug facts in SPL format.

A technically valid eligible SPL file submitted by 12 noon on a business day is transmitted to DailyMed the same business day of submission

The chart with the number of product SPL files on DailyMed only represents the March 2012—May 2013 timeframe.
